Taking an in-video quiz

This guide takes you through the process opening and taking part in an interactive video quiz as a viewer.

As a quiz viewer you can download the questions before taking the quiz, request hints to help you answer correctly, and skip and return to questions at the end. Once you've answered all of the questions you can review your performance.

Opening and taking a quiz

The following steps describe how you can take a quiz as a viewer.

1. Log into Media Hopper Create and locate the quiz you wish to take. Media files with quizzes configured have a special quiz icon displayed at the top left of their thumbnail.
2. Click on the thumbnail or title to open the quiz.
3. Click the Play button to start.

The Welcome screen for the quiz will appear prior to the media file playing. If the creator has enabled the option, you can download a PDF copy of the quiz using the Pre-test Available option.

4. To take the quiz, click Continue.

The media file will begin to play. Numbered questions will be displayed on the scrub bar.

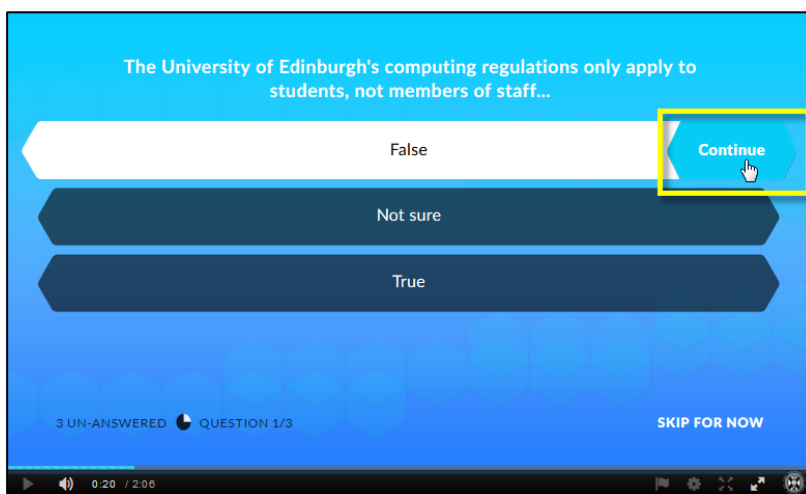

When a question is reached, playback will be paused to allow you to answer the question.

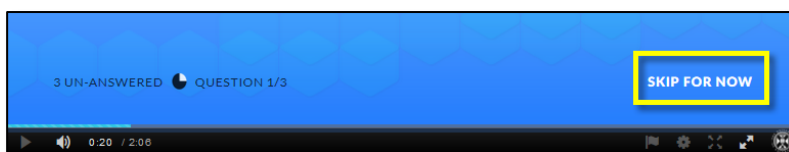

At this point, the scrubber cannot be moved and you cannot perform any player actions.

5. Select your answer and click on the Continue button to confirm your selection.

6. You can skip a question using the SKIP FOR NOW button. The question will disappear and playback will be resumed.

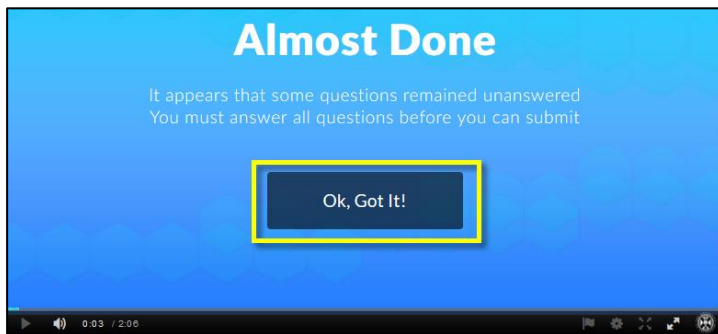

The appearance of questions on the timeline will vary depending on whether or not they've been answered. Questions which have been answered appear blue, with those unanswered remaining white.

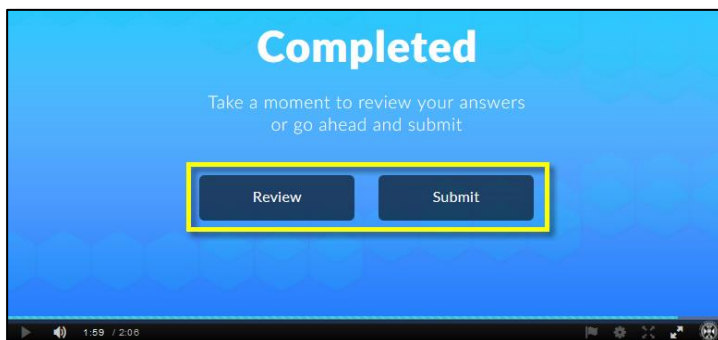

7. A cube icon will appear on screen during playback until the end of the video. This either contains a message informing you that you've not answered all questions (if you've skipped any) or options to review/submit your answers.

8. If you've skipped a question, clicking on the cube icon will display the Almost Done box. Click on the OK, Got It! button to return to the quiz and answer all remaining questions.

9. Once you have answered all of the questions, click on the cube icon to display Completed box. You can change your answers using the Review button, or submit your answers for marking using Submit.

10. When the Submit button is clicked, the Submitted box will appear. You will be shown your final quiz score and can review how you performed by clicking on any of the questions.

11. Click on the Done! Button once you've finished reviewing your results.
