

Media Hopper Create

Managing your watch history

Media Hopper Create allows you to see a list of media content you have recently viewed, and resume watching them where you left off. You can also remove content from your watch history.

Viewing your watch history

Once you have logged in to Media Hopper Create, you will be shown the most recent three items you have watched on the homepage.

You can also view your complete watch history through your account menu.

1. Click on your name and select My History to display your view history.

2. Use the search box to find a viewed item by content name, the name of the person who uploaded it, or by tag.

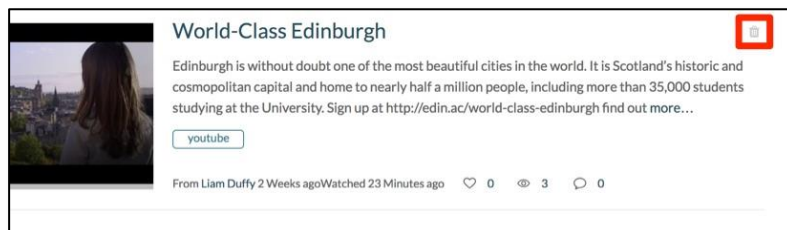

3. Use the filter options to filter your history by content type, whether you finished watching the content, or by timeframe.

Removing media from your watch history

If you do not want to have a piece of content shown on your watch history, you can remove them one by one, or remove all items. This is done from the My History page as shown in the above steps.

1. Click on the Remove from watch history icon next to the media you want removed.

2. To remove all items from your watch history, click the Clear History.

3. Click the Delete button to confirm.

You cannot undo this clearing of your history, so only use this option if you do not need to view your history any more.
